

10-12 December 2015

IMPACT OF NUTRITION FOR REHABILITATION OF OLDER PATIENTS

Announcing a new EICA translational training course to review the evidence-based role of nutrition in older adults for better rehabilitation outcomes.

The course will focus on:

- Nutrition, ageing and physical functioning
- Practicalities of rehabilitation for older patients
- Care needs for malnutrition, sarcopenia and frailty

LOCATION

San Servolo Island (Italy),
on Venice International University (VIU) Campus

SCHEDULE

Dec 10: Starting at 14:00
Dec 11: All Day
Dec 12: Ending at 13:00

MEDICAL FACULTY

Xanthi Michail (GR)
Jean-Pierre Michel (CH)
Francesco Landi (IT)
Cornel Sieber (DE)
Stefano Masiero (IT)
Maria Gabriella Ceravolo (IT)
Bruno Vellas (FR)
Rene Rizzoli (CH)

ACCREDITATION

The course will be awarded
CME credits by EACCME
and accredited by EICA,
ESPRM, EUGMS and VIU.

APPLY NOW

to Attend this 1st EICA-ESPRM-EUGMS Train the Trainers Course

Contact Tea Stifanic - tea.stifanic@univiu.org

Limited spaces available. Program tailored for physiatrists, geriatricians, GPs and other medical specialists. Allied health care professionals may attend on special request. Registration fees (€500-including meals) and accommodation reservations (€250-€400) due by November 30. Individuals are responsible for their travel expenses. 5 scholarships will be awarded. Apply by October 15.

